Dear Megan,

We have just held another successful IPAC conference and on behalf of the IPA Council of New Zealand I want to take this opportunity to write a letter of thanks to Conference Innovators for a job well done once again.

Special thanks must go to Arna and Nerida who did an outstanding job for us. The two of them work well together as a team and were great to deal with. They made themselves available at short notice and always tried to find creative ways to fulfill our needs within the constraints of a tight budget.

We have now completed three excellent conferences thanks to the technical support, industry expertise and lateral thinking ability of Conference Innovators (CI) staff. With every new conference has come new challenges and CI have continually stepped up in order to make our jobs that much easier. The CI teams we have worked with are focused, dedicated and enthusiastic professionals who clearly love what they do. And we love what you do also.

Slowly, but surely the cogs of creativity are beginning to turn again in preparation for the next IPAC conference, a conference that CI will, we hope, want to be a part of.

Kind regards

Victor Klap
