Thoracic Endovascular Aortic Stent Repair (TEVAR):
Outcomes and Perioperative Management

Manfred D. Seeberger
Department of Anesthesia and Intensive Care, University Hospital Basel, Switzerland

Thoracic endovascular repair has been introduced more than a decade ago. However, scientific evidence on indications and outcomes still is insufficient. Based on recent studies, reviews and meta-analyses (1-8), the current state of knowledge will be discussed.

Literature