

Mai Chen Biography

Mai Chen (LLB (Hons) Otago LLM (Harvard) (FNZIM) is a partner in Chen Palmer New Zealand Public Law Specialists, which won Best Public Law Firm in the New Zealand Law Awards for the 3 years it has been a category - 2007, 2008 and 2009.

Formerly a senior lecturer at Victoria University Law School, Mai has sat on the Securities Commission, the Advisory Board of AMP Life Limited (NZ), the New Zealand Advisory Board of New Zealand Trade and Enterprise's Beachheads Programme, and the Asia New Zealand Foundation.

Mai currently chairs the New Zealand Global Women's Advisory Board, a network of the most senior women leaders in this country and working overseas, is a member of the World Class New Zealand Network and President of the Harvard Law School Alumni Association (New Zealand).

She has written about 100 articles and contributions to books and books on public law.