

Making quality simple for general practice

Doing quality activities for general practice has become complicated, time-consuming and for some practices, expensive.

The Royal New Zealand College of General Practitioners is working to simplify the Aiming for Excellence standard and the CORNERSTONE® programme. Come along to hear our proposals for simplifying quality in general practice and let us know what's high on your CORNERSTONE® change wish list.