

Protecting yourself in the workplace

Having good health and safety (H&S) practices is a key part of operating a great medical practice and ensuring you are protecting yourselves from being held personally liable for any breaches of the Health and Safety At Work Act 2015. And, depending on what you are already doing about keeping people healthy, well and safe in your practice, it's not as hard, expensive or time-consuming as you might think. Come along and get some practical tips about how you can treat H&S as part of your day-to-day business and manage it proportionately to the level of risk inherent in your industry and practice.
