

Dr James Lai

Preoperative cardiac investigation - when does it really make a difference ?

This session will outline the recent evidence surrounding preoperative cardiac assessment for patients undergoing noncardiac surgery

A critical appraisal and problem centred guidelines will be offered

A focused discussion of new investigations and techniques will help attendees develop an integrated approach to cardiac patients that is evidence-based and yet practical