

Chris Hickey
Southern Spars

Southern Spars is the world's leading yacht mast manufacturer – founded and headquartered in Auckland, New Zealand. This presentation will cover an introduction to Southern Spars, examples of innovative projects completed by Southern Spars, and a brief introduction in using composites in your innovative application – what works, what doesn't and the potential benefits that composite materials can provide.